

track. He was quickly revived, however, and was able to walk to his dressing-room. The time was 4m. 52s.

Davis and Noble of Pomona tied for first place in the pole vault at 9 ft. 6 in. Davis tried for 10 ft., but failed. Woodward of U.S.C. took third place.

METHODIST GLORY.

The most exciting event of the day was the one-mile relay race, which was won by U.S.C. in the record-cracking time of 5m. 40s.

Four men were entered from each school, each man running a quarter of a mile. An innovation was made this year in the method of running off this contest. Instead of going around the mile track, as in former years, the men ran on a straight-away course in front of the grand stand.

Seymour was selected by U.S.C. and Thomas by Pomona to open the race. The men ran well together for the first 160 yards and then Seymour sped away from his plucky one-armed rival and reached his man 10 yards in the lead. Keagy increased this lead to 20 yards in his contest with Newman, giving Miller a splendid lead over Cadwalader. But this feet-footed little Congregationalist succeeded in cutting U.S.C. advantage down 5 yards, so when Wilson of U.S.C. started out on the last quarter he was only 15 yards in the lead of Noble, his opponent; but by a masterful run he increased this lead 8 yards, and finished 33 yards ahead of the Pomona runner, winning the event and five points for his school.

Then followed a wild scene of joy among the University contingent, who had had little chance for jollification during the day.

Owing to the intense excitement, this race always creates, it is considered almost as much of an honor to win it as to be victorious in the general field-day score.

The University relay team has never been defeated by Pomona.

At the conclusion of the field day, Miss Seaver of Pomona College presented the winners of first and second places with pretty silk badges and the winning relay team with a beautiful silver and gold loving cup.

NOTES FROM THE FIELD.

The "hoodoo" which was so effectually burned previous to the intercollegiate football game appears to have come back to life and to be once more a factor in University affairs.

Melville Dozier, Jr., referee of the field day, was one of the most popular officials who has ever taken a hand in intercollegiate contests. His decisions were uniformly fair and were accepted with excellent grace by the members of both teams. His long experience in athletic contests has given him especial qualifications for filling such a position.

U.S.C. has just cause to feel proud of her coeds. They proved themselves loyal supporters of their athletes yesterday, and U.S.C.'s defeat cannot be charged to any lack of interest or encouraging smiles on their part.

Hendrickson and Noble were the star actors of the Pomona team, each of them securing two first places. Seymour did the best work of the day for U.S.C., winning their only first place, taking a very close second in the 440-yard run and being largely responsible for University's victory in the relay race.

Hendrickson is alleged by several U.S.C. men to be a professional, and he participated in the events under protest, but owing to the fact that Pomona would have won without him it is not thought the University authorities will take action in the matter.

The officials of the meet were: Melville Dozier, Jr., referee; Williams, Flint and Eryeart, judges of the finish; Lewis, Gowan and Knowles, judges of the field; Wadsley, starter; Roberts, Charlton and Ellis, timers and Dent, announcer.
