

Intercollegiate Meet Postponed.

The intercollegiate field day, which was to have taken place at Fiesta Park yesterday afternoon between the track teams of the University of Southern California and Pomona College, was postponed on account of the rain. A date has not yet been decided upon, but the meet will probably take place within two or three weeks, and the coaches are confident that the additional practice which the athletes will get will assure a more closely-contested meet.