Inches in High.*

[BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Four new records, one a world's, another an intercollegiate and the other two collegiate, were written in the annals of track and field history this afternoon, when the flower of America's young athletes met on Franklin Field of the University of Pennsylvania in the twenty-first annual relay race carnival.

MILE RELAY BROKEN.

The University of Pennsylvania landed the high honors of the day when the one-mile relay team won the college championship in the world's record time of 3 minutes 18 seconds, one-fifth second under the previous mark held by the Irish-American Athletic Club quartette.

The former intercollegiate record for the high jump was shattered by Richards of Cornell, who cleared the bar in an exhibition trial at 6 feet 5 inches. This was one and three-fourths inches above the mark held by Moffitt of Pennsylvania.

A mighty throw of the javelin—177 feet 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches—by John L. Phillips of Idaho University, tumbled into the discard the previous collegiate distance of 169 feet 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches, the heave having been made by Mike Dorizas, Red and Blue strong man.

PRINCETON TO FORE.

Princeton's speedy two-mile quartet set new collegiate figures—7 minutes 55 3-5 seconds—in winning the college championship relay. The time was 2 3-5 seconds under the world's best figures for the two-mile relay.

Thousands of track enthusiasts who went to Franklin Field expecting to see a repetition of the wonderful four-mile relay race run in 1914, in which Oxford University of England barely nosed out Pennsylvania, were doomed to disappointment. Cornell's quartette jogged around the cinder path and finished in front by a big margin.

MILE FEATURE.

This year it was to be the one mile event which was to send the enthusiasm of the spectators up to the explosive point. In this event were three teams, Pennsylvania, Harvard and Missouri. And it was a battle from the sound of the gun until Meredith broke the tape at the finish.

The most spectacular feature of the afternoon was the finish of the two-mile championship relay. This race was a struggle between Princeton, Chicago and Yale pretty much all the way. In the final relay, McKensie was running for the Tigers, Campbell for Illinois Institution and Poucher for the Elfs.

McKENZIE FALLS.

When they turned into the stretch, the Yale runner was in the lead. McKensie put every pound of energy in his body into the sprint and forged to the front with the Chicago runner at his heels. The Tiger appeared certain to win, although pushed hard by Campbell. But McKensie was almost exhausted and just as he reached the tape, with the western runner by his side, he plunged headlong across the finish line.

DREW, KELLY EASY.

On such a splendid day and with the performances in almost all the events either record-breaking or unusually good, it was expected that the sprints and hurdles would provide something to talk about. It was not to be so.

Drew, the world's champion 100-yard man, and Kelly, the Olympic champion and world's record holder in the 110-yard hurdles, both representing Southern California University, walked away with the events.

True enough, both men were pushed, but not hard enough to do their favorite stunts in record time. Drew is said to have pulled a tendon in his leg prior to the race and had it bandaged. He limped slightly when he walked, but when he started down the lane, in the trial heat, the semi-final and the final, he was the same wonder that he always has been. He won the final in 13 seconds, with Smith of Michigan nearest to him at the tape.
