Northern Champ.*

Cromwell's Cornfeds Put up Nifty Fight.

BY WARDE FOWLER.

The California Bears completed their southern conquest yesterday and retired to the north with two victories dripping from their well-known jowls. Coach Cromwell's Trojan cornfeds went the way of Pomona and hit the slide to the tune of 44 1/2 to 86 1/2.

NOT MUCH DANGER.

Although the Trojans were never in any actual danger of winning the meet, they furnished a large amount of game and snappy competition. In the 100-yard dash they even went so far as to completely shut the northerners out. In all the other races they gave a very creditable account of themselves and made the invaders step high to win. Like their Sage Hen brethren they remained mute and embarrassed in the field events and saw their chances of victory drift out of sight with every jump, vault, throw and put.

The Californians emphasized the class of their team by taking twelve of the fifteen first places. Honors were awarded to the locals in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the half-mile. Evidently the northerners figured that if they could win enough first places, the seconds and thirds would take care of themselves.

A lengthy individual yclept Sullivan opened the afternoon's excitement by a burst of speed in the mile run. This gent followed the Trojan runners around the course for three or four laps and then, feeling that he could find the way for himself, stepped ahead of everything and cracked the tape.

RAH FOR "DOC."

Doctor Cook, Trojan quarter-miler, half-miler, miler and thence east to stake and mound, hastened into the lead at the beginning of this race and looked like he was running for money. He separated himself from the common herd by several valuable yards right off the bat and many thought he would lap the field before the race was over. Crippen sailed along immediately behind Cook and the California champion, Sullivan, was back in the general mix-up.

Then came a startling change. Crippen developed a desire to lead the field and took the honors from the flagging Cook. Sullivan increased his speed by several hundred revolutions and joined Miller in a wild dash for initial honors. On the last turn the three men were very close together with Sullivan pulling up on Crippen and Miller closing up with both of them. Into the home straightaway they tore, Sullivan creeping ahead, with Miller going like a wild man behind him. Almost everyone thought that the local youth was going to pass the northerner up. The time was excellent, 4m. 39 2-5s.

TRAVELING.

In a quarter-mile exhibition Moody repeated his performance of Thursday and won the race by inches from Beebe. The finish was not so close as the Hun affair, but it was hot enough to make Moody's hair stand on end. On the pop of the gun the Californian gave a jump for the pole and managed to get it after an awful battle with Beebe. The two men fought for the honor position all around the first turn and Moody nearly killed himself stepping into the lead.

On the back stretch Beebe sprinted up even with the long University of California hope and held the position around the final circle. In the home straightaway Beebe began to lag and the race went to the north by a fraction of a second.

Shortly after, Beebe reappeared on the field of combat and regained all his lost prestige. He turned a half-mile, replete with curves, competition, etc., in 2m. 1 1-5s. and put the hard-working Blanchard back in the discard. The Southern California expert was going in sensational style and he walloped the northerner by about the same distance that Adkinson did at Pomona.

The 220-yard dash was a pretty race in which Ken Johnson outran the fox-belt candidates with ease and dispatch.

H. Lamport annexed the other Trojan first place by shading Johnson in the century.

The relay was a slaughter, with

Jackson, Gibbon, Pitts and Moody leading from the first step.

In the field events the pole vault and the high jump were startling. Nichols of U.C. tied with Jackson for first in the latter and won the former. The high jump went to 5ft. 11in. and the pole to 12ft. 1in. Creighton nosed in for third place in the high jump, and Maurer took second and Harvey split with Coffeen for third in the pole vault.

Liversedge and Richardson, gentlemen resembling a couple of Kelly-Springfield trucks, hogged eight of the nine points in the shot put. Richardson also won both the hammer throw and the discus, proving himself a handy man to have in the family.

Bob Weaver did the heavy starting and had a terrible time in several of the events. In the 100-yard dash the local athletes showed a tendency to jump the gun. Six times in a row the U.S.C. sprinters sailed out into the wind before the fatal signal and had to get back for another start. Bob was under a handicap in this race, as he could not set the athletes back for jumping the gun without putting them inside the training quarters.

On the sixth fake start the prexy of the local A.A.U. delivered a telling little address, in which he declared that he would kick the next victim out of the park. This had terrific effect and the gents held their marks like they were glued. When they did get away the start was a peach.

Ed Stanton, ex-California sprint champion, stood on the sidelines and wept when the locals came in with all the points in the hundred.

Following are the results:

One-mile run — Sullivan (U.C.) first; Crippen (U.S.C.) second; Miller (U.S.C.) third. Time, 4m. 39 3/4 s.
