

SPRINT RECORDS MAY DIP TODAY.

Charley Paddock to Take a Fling at Seven.

Attempt Will be Feature of L.A.A.C. Tryouts.

Many Demon Track Athletes Are to Perform.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Some years back an inventive genius rimmed up a game in which you could tally a whole flock of points by scoring what was known as a "slam." Today, on the field named in his honor, Charley Paddock, premier sprinter of the universe, will endeavor to lower seven world's records. Sir Charles is after a "slam."

Paddock may not be successful in snipping corpuscles of time off all seven records, but it seems very probable that he will undermine the ancient figures in three or four of the races. Those which he will run, and the records, follow:

50-yard dash	8 1/2-sec.
100-yard dash	9 3/4-sec.
110-yard dash	10 1/2-sec.
130-yard dash	12 3/4-sec.
150-yard dash	14 1/2-sec.
200-yard dash	18 1/2-sec.
220-yard dash	20 1/2-sec.

The U.S.C. sprinter will run the first three races in one, tapes being stretched and official timers stationed at each distance. The 110, 130, 200 and 220 will be run the same way.

THE BIG STUNT.

Paddock's stunt will be the big feature of the tryout for positions on the team which will represent the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the national A.A.U. track and field championships to be held in Pasadena, July 2, 4 and 5.

Close to 100 athletes are expected to compete in the tryouts today. Though there is nothing at stake splendid competition should prevail in all events, and a fair idea of the strength of the Athletic Club team will be gained.

The quarter-mile should be one of the races well worth watching with Schiller, Kilby, Wilson and Spangler all entered for the one-lap sprint. Schiller beat Kilby, as did Wilson, in the Olympic tryouts at Pasadena last summer, establishing a new Southern California record of 48 4/5-sec., but Kilby beat his U.S.C. rival, in slower time, this year. There will be just enough of the old grudge between the two to make them run, if only for the sake of victory. Wilson is always a dangerous man, and Spangler of Occidental can be figured on to make the going hot.

AFTER REVENGE.

Bill Yount is coming down from Redlands to avenge for the defeat which Charley Daggs of Pomona handed him over the 120-yard high barriers in the A.A.U. meet, with Bill's best girl looking on. A flea bite separated the pair at the finish that day, and Bill thinks he can reverse the finishing positions.

A whole batch of dyed-in-the-wool athletes are entered for the various events. The meet is to start promptly at 2 p.m. President Bob Weaver of the A.A.U. said last night. A partial entry list follows:

100 and 220 yards—Paddock, Black, Ford, Hinkins, Allen, Stord.
