Tolan Blazes Way to Victory Over Wykoff in Record Time; Coast Stars Fail to Quality

BY BRAVEN DYER

"Times" Staff Representative

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) July 15.—Unless Blazin' Ben Eastman undergoes some miraculous rejuvenation during the night, the widely heralded rematch race between Stanford's begoggled blond and Wee Willie Carr, Pennsylvania's pint-size performer, is going to fall flatter than a bride's first batch of biscuits.

This fact stood out like a wart on a debutante's nose here today with the staging of preliminaries for the final tryouts for the American Olympic Games team tomorrow.

The Eastman - Carr battle, talked about and written about ever since the eastern runner defeated Big Ben in workmanlike manner during the ICA-A meet at Berkeley less than a month ago, has actually become of secondary interest to fans who saw today's program, for it was apparent that unless Eastman in some manner regains the brilliant running form which carried him to a new world's record of 46.4s. during the month of March he hasn't a chance against Carr in the finals of the 400-meter race tomorrow.

Members of the American Olympic Committee, meeting in special session after the trials today, decided to permit the first eight men in all field events into tomorrow's finals. Originally only five qualified, and several favorites and national champions failed to make the grade.

SPRINTS IN SPOTLIGHT

Interest has now shifted to the sprints, where such runners as Frank Wykoff, Emmett Toppino, Hee Dyer and George Simpson are faced with the difficult assignment of bettering the phenomenal running of two great colored stars, Eddie Tolan of Michigan and Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette.

It is doubtful if anybody ever ran a greater 100-meter dash than Tolan did here this afternoon when he won his heat against a strong head wind in the world record time of 10.4s. while being clocked by the most exacting officials in America.

This was the verdict of no less authority than Charles Willyum Paddock, co-holder of the accepted world's record with Tolan at this same figure. Seated next to the writer in the mammoth Stanford press box, Charley made this observation after the "Midnight Express" had nosed out Wykoff for first place in a brilliant finish and after he had also seen Toppino lead a fast field to the tape in 10.8s. in the first heat.

Withdrawals at the last minute made it unnecessary to run more than two heats in the 100 meters, where three and a semifinal had originally been expected.

Toppino was off to such a flying start in the first heat that it appeared as if he were running all by himself. Of course, it wasn't possible, but from across the field it seemed that the little Loyola lad had more than four yards on Simpson and Metcalfe at the thirty-yard mark.

And then the others began to come. Blowing a three-mile wind, they raced down the track, Metcalfe and Simpson gaining steadily on Toppino, who, however, hit the tape first, followed by the former Ohio State star with the Marquette star third. But the time, 10.86, drew a moan from the spectators, who had expected something approaching a world record in view of Toppino's terrific start.

Then came Tolan's heat. His spectators pinned back to his head by means of adhesive tape over his ears, the saved-off black hair got out of his holes only a fraction of a second behind Wylhoff, who did not start as well as he usually does, but nevertheless was sent away. Frank held the lead until the fifty-yard mark when Tolan drew alongside of him. They battled stride for stride until the eighty-yard spot when slowly but surely Eddie pulled away. Apparently sensing that he had second place cinched, Wylhoff eased up at the tape. Johnson, another colored runner, was third, but well behind Tolan and Wylhoff, who were approximately two feet apart. The full effect of Tolan's sprinting came a moment later when the time of 11.16 was announced. The wind had died down slightly for this heat, registering 1.16 miles per hour against the runners.

Tolan thus becomes the man to beat in the 100 meters, but Wylhoff, on his showing today, is far from out of it. In fact, the way Frank let down slightly at the finish indicates that he is saving something for tomorrow. In addition he withdrew from the 200 meters at the last minute, conserving his energy for a mighty effort over the shorter route.

Metcalfe lived up to his slow starting reputation. At the 10-yard mark of his heat, he was absolutely last among six starters. But when the 100-pound Marquette star began to come and when the 100-meter mark was reached he was going faster than anybody else.

It was in the 200 meters, his pet event, that Metcalfe revealed his class. Rolling along at a tremendous rate of speed he piled up such an amazing lead between the 100 and 150-yard mark that it was child's play for him to coast in with a margin of one and one-half yards over Simpson and Don Bennett, who tied for second. The time was 21.76.

EAST FOR BOB

Butler Bob Kiser of California drew the biggest expression of amazement from the crowd during the day when he came out from behind the grand stand with a ten-yard lead over Johnson and Weybright of the Navy in his heat. All by himself all of the way (at least all that was visible, the first third of the race being hid from those of us who sat in the press box) Kiser also eased up and was clocked in 21.16.

Bob Dye, running the closing race of the day, lifted his long legs over the cinders in picturesque fashion to record the fastest time, 21.16. Tolan, for all the world like a little boy running alongside his dad, kept pace with Bob most of the way, but was content with second place at the tape. Nate George of Wesleyan was a strong third.

Beneficiaries of the 200 meters came early tomorrow afternoon and there are four colored boys among the nine starters.

To get back to Eastman and Carr. The latter ran his heat more than a full second faster than Eastman, and you can imagine what a terrific shock this gave the local fans. Unless Bob was saving himself, and it certainly did not appear then, he is in for a bruising tomorrow and may not even take second.

"He will be lucky to get third tomorrow," said Dick Tompkins, copped in his chair at the side of the track, after the two heats had been run. "Carr looked like Eastman did in March."

That, in all probability, is the story. No human being could be at his peak in March and then again in midsummer without laying off for a protracted period and Eastman has not rested much.

Ben got a terrific battle from Jim Gordon of the I.A.A.U. today and in March Eastman beat Gordon by at least twelve yards. In fact, unlike Ben's customary form, Gordon led all the way until the last turn when Eastman came along to win by one yard. But he did not come like the Eastman of old. He didn't have the resilience in his stride that has characterized his running in the past and it was with apparent effort that he beat Gordon in 48.16.

CARR IN FRONT

In contrast to all this Carr took the lead with the opening gun for his heat, led every inch of the way, and finished fresh at a dash in 27.16, tying the Olympic record. He beat Carl Warner of Yale a good four yards, with Edgar Albrecht of S.C. two yards behind Warner. John McCarty of the I.A.A.U. stayed with the pack until the final turn when he gave her the gun, found he had no ammunition left, and then walked into the tape, last.

Francis of Indiana ran the fastest fourth, so he leads on the Olympic team as do Carr, Eastman, Warner, pic Games winner and a member of the 1928 squad, taking the first and Healey the second. It was in the latter heat that Pomeroy ran and only the width of a worm's hip separated Dick from Beatty for second place. Pomeroy flopped on his face at the side of the track and was still there half an hour later, completely exhausted.

All of our high hurdlers but Bill Stokes went out of this event during their respective heats. Jimmy Payne was fifth in his heat. Wendall Smith ran fourth in his trial and Stokes just did make the grade for the semifinals by coming with a terrific rush which gave him third place behind Keller and Sentman.

But Stokes lost out in the first semifinal heat staged three hours later, so there will be no hurdlers from Southern California on the Olympic team for the first time in modern track-and-field history.

The fight between Saling, Keller, Beard and Morris promises to be a terrific one tomorrow, with the first two having made the best time, 14.6s., today. There is no choice between the four, except that Beard, because of his great competitive record, is favored by many of the wisecracks, particularly if they run into a strong wind as he enjoys this kind of going. Not a single high hurdler entered today knocked down a barrier.

separating the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh place men.

A chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" swept through the press box when this event was announced and the name of Dick Barber was not given at first. And it was the irony of fate that one of his team-mates at the University of Southern California, Johnny Johnson, should be the boy almost to break Barber's heart.

Picture this for a battle: Fourth place, Johnson, 24ft. 5 7-8in.; Martin of the Olympic Club, fifth, 24ft. 5 3-4in.; Hap Walker of the L.A.A.C., sixth, 24ft. 5 5-8in.; Barber, seventh, 24ft. 5 1/2in., made on his last leap.

Johnson had never done much until the I.-C.-4-A. meet this year, when he placed second behind Barber at 23ft. 3in. Up to this time he was considered Southern California's third best jumper.

REDD FAVORED

As the result of his 25ft. 2in. leap today, Lambert Redd, the Peoria boy from Bradley Tech, is favored to remain in first place throughout tomorrow's competition.

Herman Brix suffered the fright of his life in the shot when he came within three-eighths of an inch of falling to qualify for the finals. Herm's put of 49ft. 2in. gave him fifth place over George Theodoratus of Washington State by this slim margin, who later was admitted.

Big Bob Hall of the Trojans has a fine chance of landing on the Olympic team in the discus throw by beating out Herc Laborde of Stanford for third place behind John Anderson and Paul Jessup. And how Bob gets fired up against his Stanford friends. Anderson appears almost a certainty to win as his throw was nine feet better than Jessup's in second place.

The way the 400-meter hurdle heats were run was a crime. Because the track could accommodate but four barriers each man had to go through this trying test twice, once being sufficient to kill the average citizen. Dick Pomeroy, philosopher, preacher and professor from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, won his heat in the slowest time of the three, 54.4s., beating Eugene Beatty, who eased up at the finish.

The boys were faced with the semifinals of this event later in the afternoon and instead of giving the tired athletes all the rest possible, which they were entitled to in the name of humanity, officials sent the athletes back to their chores before the boring twenty-minute three-mile walk was put on.

POMEROY FLOPS

The semifinal heats, therefore, were a terrific ordeal, with the veteran F. Morgan Taylor, 1924 Olym-

Bates. Coach Robertson will use the four extra men for the 1600-meter relay team, making his selections after the finals tomorrow.

Perhaps it's about time to say something about the great shot-putting of Leo Sexton, the giant from the New York A.C. On his very first heave, the big easterner tossed the weight 52ft. 8in., thereby bettering the accepted world's record. This did not excite the crowd unduly, however, because Sexton was a heavy favorite to win and the only question now is whether Herm Brix, in fifth place, can do anything to embarrass his rival tomorrow.

Eddie Genung rules as the people's choice in the 800-meters after winning his heat in 1m. 53.5s., without straining himself. Ferris Webster, S.C. freshman, hit the tape in a close finish with two others and fate was kind to him for he came out of it with the fourth and last qualifying position. Charley Sansone, in the same heat, ran himself out leading the pack for the first 600 yards and had nothing but a walking gait for his home trip to the tape.

Two middle-western wonders ruled the field in the 1500-meter heats, Henry Brocksmit of Indiana, winning the first and Glenn Cunningham of Kansas, the second. It is hard to see how anybody can beat both of them tomorrow. Their times were within nine-tenths of a second of each other, Cunningham being the faster.

Gene Venzke, supposedly America's premier miler because of his great indoor running, did not look so hot, but there is a strong possibility that he was saving himself for tomorrow. He was third behind Hollowell of Harvard in Brocksmith's heat.

The final of this race should come mighty close to being the day's classic what with much of the kick gone out of the 400 meters.

Frank Lydic of the L.A.A.C., national junior mile champion a year ago, was last in his heat today.

The field events almost resulted tragically for several of Southern California's most prominent performers, only the changed ruling getting some of them into the finals. A rank outsider, Clem Friedman of the Olympic Club is comfortably lodged in first place tonight with a fine throw of 212 feet in the javelin.

De Mers fouled on one heave, threw another but 150 feet, and finally came up to 199 feet. This event was staged into the wind and unless the breeze shifts for the finals tomorrow it appears likely that Friedman's fine mark will not be exceeded.

The broad jump gave the official measurers a bad case of galloping jitters, with infinitesimal fractions
