

Troy, Caltech Share Honors in Baton Event

Southern California and Caltech shared honors yesterday in an impromptu track and field meet staged at Bovard Field in which no score was kept. The relay event filled in for the canceled College Relays.

One of the top events proved to be the four-man mile in which Ken Shauer, Tech anchor man, made up four yards in a late rush to nip Arno Elias of the Trojans for the win. Shauer's unofficial time for his lap was 49.6s.

Troy Nips Caltech

The half-mile relay was close with the Trojans nosing out Caltech because Bill Eagle was a little too strong at the finish.

Dean Cromwell, Troy coach, was pleased over the broad jumping of George Crum, who approached last year's form with a leap of 22ft. 2in.
