

Tough Meet, Hard Feelings

UCLA men edge USC in annual track and field showdown, 83-80, and athletes engage in some shoving afterward.

Brain women also win.

Track and field remains a sport built around individuals, but put those athletes on the same track in uniforms with UCLA and USC emblazoned on them and a dual meet often brings out the best — and, occasionally, the worst — in them.

On a day when up-and-coming stars Virginia Powell of USC and Monique Henderson of UCLA shone for their teams and Jon Rankin was the clutch performer in the Bruins' tight victory in the men's competition, the spirited rivalry was marred by heated post-meet histrionics Saturday at USC's Loker Stadium.

As the meet drew to a conclusion, USC pulled out a victory in the men's 1,000-meter relay as USC cheered on a close, exciting race. Even though UCLA had clinched an 83-80 victory in the previous event, the 5,000 meters, it didn't stop Bruin junior Craig Everhart from jawing with a group of USC athletes as he finished his anchor leg.

Many more athletes from both schools soon joined the fray, leading to pushing and shoving before order was restored. Art Vazquez, the UCLA men's coach, said such skirmishes have occurred before when the teams have met.

"Both parties have to be more cognizant of their actions at the end of a close meet," Vazquez said. "The reality is emotions are really high. We really implore our athletes and staff to not throw fuel on the fire."

But USC Coach Ron Alice said Everhart was "out of line" as he headed toward a group of Trojan athletes after he finished his race. Alice intimated that the sprinter played the role of instigator, saying, "You cannot put red in front of the bull."

"I let our kids know that this is not the place [for that]," he added.

The UCLA men clinched their fourth consecutive dual meet victory over USC and 26th in the last 27 years in the 5,000. With an 80-74 lead entering the race, USC needed Thomas Bakir-Idroba to finish second or better against a pack of UCLA runners to gain at least three points and let the 1,000 relay decide the meet.

But Austin Rawns, Eric Simonsen and Jon Rankin led a 1-2-3 UCLA sweep to foil the Trojans' hopes of their second win since 1971. "I knew it was going to be close and [distance coach Eric Peterson] made sure we knew what we needed to do," Rawns said.

For Rankin, a redshirt senior, it capped a big day in a breakout senior season after four mostly disappointing years. He won the 1,000 in a school-record 3 minutes 48.28 seconds, breaking a mark that had stood for 21 years, and added a victory in the 500.

At the Hafer Johnson/Jackie Joyner-Kersey meet April 5, he ran 3:57.88 in the mile, becoming the first Bruin since 1988 to break the four-minute barrier.

"I thank my teammates and coaches for staying with me for five years and allowing me the time to grow," Rankin said. "I feel real strong this year."

Henderson, an Olympic gold medalist as a member of the U.S. 1,000-meter relay team, highlighted an 83-78 victory for the Bruins women, their 25th consecutive in the series. The one-time San Diego high school phenom ran a nation-leading 50.95 to win the 400 and won the 200 in 22.85.

Powell continued to blossom as a future American star with victories in the 200-meter dash (1:30) and 300 hurdles (a school-record 2:74), a double that she may attempt at the NCAA outdoor championships in June. Last month, the junior won an NCAA indoor title in the 80-meter hurdles.

"My 300 [meter] time is looking good right now," Powell said, looking about the possibilities.

There were other standout performances: USC's Iryna Vaschuk won the 1,500 and 5,000 and UCLA's Candice Beaudreau took the long jump and triple jump. USC sprinter Wes Felix won two events and USC's Jesse Williams cleared 7-0 in the high jump.

But the antics after the meet also left their mark.

"How that's a rivalry, isn't it?" Alice gapped.
